The moment a new life comes into the world, it is fed and nourished with the purest and most complete of foods---mother’s milk. It is a known fact that the milk excreted by the mammary glands during the first 72 hours after birth has high concentrations of proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals. The milk called colostrum is essential to the proper development of the newborn as it contains immune factors, growth factors, antibodies and enzymes.

Research has shown that the immune and growth factors of bovine colostrum are nearly identical to that of human colostrum and are just as effective in warding off viral, bacterial, fungal and parasitic attacks. The immune factors in bovine colostrum such as immunoglobuline, lactoferrin and cytokines, are in fact 20 times more than that in humans. It can improve the symptoms of HIV, AIDS, cancer, Alzheimer’s disease and heart disease. The growth factors in colostrum help normalize the growth of aged or damaged bone, muscle, skin collagen, cartilage and nerve tissue.

As such, it is highly effective in retarding the aging process. It also helps burn fat for fuel and assists in the internal regulation of blood glucose levels.

Ginkgo: Is widely recognised by medical circles for its ability to increase blood circulation as well as removing blood stasis. It contains flavonoids that may prevent arteriosclerosis (hardening of blood vessels) and improve blood circulation.

Ginkgo: Is a powerful antioxidant herb. It is best known for its ability to enhance circulation, to squeeze through the narrowest blood vessels and to increase the supply of oxygen to the heart and brain.

Health Benefits

Cerebral Insufficiency
This refers to a decrease of blood flow and lack of oxygen and glucose supply to the brain, loss of neurons, diminishing nerve cells and deteriorating nerve connections in the brain. Prolonged cerebral insufficiency will cause loss of other mental faculties such as intellectual recognition, resulting in senility.

Alzheimer's Disease
A condition of the nervous system with severe memory loss. It is characterized by reduced activity of neurotransmitters, which can be increased by GLE.

Stroke
Stroke occurs when blood supply or oxygen and glucose to the brain is temporarily cut off through blood clot or a ruptured blood vessel. The brain cells where the part of the brain is affected will die. GLE protects and promotes recovery for stroke patients by reducing viscosity of the blood and improving blood flow to the brain.

Intermittent Claudication
When cholesterol deposits on the narrow arteries in the legs, the result is intermittent claudication, pain, cramping and weakness, particularly in the calves. GLE improves blood flow to the legs. Studies show that ginkgo produced significantly greater pain relief than standard treatment.

Male Impotence
GLE, helps to relieve male impotence caused by narrowing of the arteries supplying blood to the penile arteries.

Eye Disorder
Eye disorder such as Macular Degeneration is the leading cause of adult blindness. It involves deterioration of the retina, the nerve-rich area in the eye responsible for sight. It can be improved by taking GLE.

Hearing Loss
Tinnitus is a progressive loss of hearing in both ears due to aging of the cochlear hair cells and the nerve fiber. Cochlear deafness which is caused by inadequate blood flow and lack of oxygen to the nerve involved in hearing can be improved by GLE.

Asthma
PAF causes bronchial constriction in asthma. Ginkgo interferes with PAF and helps to prevent bronchial constriction.
